

How do I use it with the ADS?

- You will need an account in the ADS. If you do not already have one, create one here :http://adsabs.harvard.edu/cgi-bin/nph-manage_account?man_cmd=new
- Once you have logged in, click on “my Account” (upper right hand corner of the screen.)
- Click on “Library Links Settings”
- From the menu “Library Links Server” select “STScI”
- Apply the settings.

As you find articles you’re interested in, you will see that some records in your results list are designated with an “L”. Click on that “L” to use the article linker. Alternatively, you may see an “Article Linker” icon on the page.

How do I use it with Google Scholar?

TBD : Coming soon

Caveat : The article linker is not perfect! If you don’t find what you’re looking for with it, check the Library Catalog. If that doesn’t work, contact human beings at library@stsci.edu and we’ll help you get the articles you need.
